

GQ Patrol Drag Link

New Super Heavy Duty Design Available!

In keeping with customer demand, while the Roadsafe DL700S was originally upgraded from standard, the NEWLY Designed DL700SHD has been further upgraded and enhanced, and added to the range to fill the tough truck demand. The new DL700SHD now boasts a huge 34mm OD Rod with 6.5mm Wall Thickness. The new DL700SHD has also been designed with greasable female tie rod ends for added strength (replacing the standard genuine style male ends on the DL700S). The Steering Damper Bracket has also had a make-over, with the attached bracketry removed, and a new moveable bracket to suit both style dampers in its place. Overall, the new DL700SHD is super strong, and has been designed specifically for the Comp Cars that are super tough on their Drag Links.
